

A world leader among nursing practice journals, the Journal of Obstetric, Gynecologic, and Neonatal Nursing (JOGNN) offers nurses, advanced practice nurses, and other health care professionals the latest practice, research, policies, opinions, and trends in the care of women, childbearing families, and newborns. The official journal of the Association of Women's Health, Obstetric and Neonatal Nursing (AWHONN), JOGNN presents the relevant clinical scholarship that helps readers incorporate rapidly changing realities into practice.

Recognized for ground breaking, peer-reviewed articles on important and sometimes controversial issues that help change legislative policy and every day clinical nursing practice, every other month JOGNN brings you new information on topics such as: cancer in women and infants, cultural competence in obstetric/gynecologic nursing, infections in women, sexuality across the lifespan, and health care policy. A Brandon-Hill selection for core nursing collections.

**JOGNN is now available electronically through HighWire Press! When you become a subscriber to JOGNN, you receive access to the electronic version at no extra cost! You'll have access to the entire online archive, with the ability to download articles and make copies for coursepacks and create electronic reserve collections without any fees.
